Redeeming Autonomy

Professor Christopher Insole
ACU Visiting Professorial Fellow
Durham University

The purpose of the Redeeming Autonomy project is to make a strategic intervention into the academic and cultural debates around the notion of 'autonomy' by examining forgotten or repressed textures in its political, ethical, philosophical, and theological reception. This lecture sets out some of the main findings of the project so far, as well as posing, and inviting, questions for the future.
